The image shows a screenshot of the Foundation framework's typography settings panel. The panel is titled "Foundation" and has a close button (X) in the top right corner. It is divided into two tabs: "Typography" (selected) and "Color" (with a "Soon" label). Under the "Typography" tab, there are four sections: "Base size" (16 px), "Scale" (1.25 - Major Thir...), "Rounding" (Round to integers), and "Font" (Roboto). Below these settings, there are two examples of text styles. The first example is "Playing with fonts is..." with a font size of 48px, selected with a checkbox, and a "Heading/h1" label. The second example is "Playing with fonts is fun" with a font size of 39px, selected with a checkbox, and a "Heading/h2" label. At the bottom of the panel, there are two buttons: "Create 12 styles" and "Reset all".
